

MAP OF THE VOLCANOES

The world's volcanoes are all along the lines of faults in the earth. This means they are at places where the earth is weak. So there is likely to be some movement of the earth.

This is why volcanoes and earthquakes are located together. This map shows the location of some of the largest volcanoes in the world. It also shows the parts of the world where there are earthquakes.

